

English this week is based on an extract from 'Clever Cakes' by Michael Rosen. You will find the reading extract needed in the files on the class page. Below are four activities to be completed throughout the week as and when you choose. The spellings will be an on going activity over the week ready for parents to test on Friday. Be as creative with these as possible—write in chalk outside, paint them with water outside, create flashcards and display around the house etc. When starting this please start with the reading activity. It will form a basis for the rest of the activities throughout the week.
